HISTORICAL PLAQUES IDENTIFYING CITY LANDMARKS

Dear Historic Property Owner:

Here is information regarding obtaining a plaque for your historically designated property. Plaques identifying historically designated properties must conform to the City of San Diego Historical Resources Board (HRB) specifications. Each plaque, oval in shape are approximately 17 x 12 inches, are gold with black lettering and contain the City Seal, name of the designated site, such as: CHARLES A. MARTIN HOUSE, with the date it was built and the historic site number assigned by HRB staff. (See attached example)

Property owners are requested to contact City staff to the Historical Resources Board to verify the historical name, date and designation number of their property prior to placing a sign order. The Board Secretary will be glad to assist you and can be reached at (619) 533-6307.

The following company is the only approved vendor that follows the HRB specifications. Cost is approximately $500.00.
